PART 51—CANNED VEGETABLES

Certain Standardized Canned Vegetables; Use of Margarine as an Optional Seasoning Ingredient

In the matter of amending the identity standards for canned peas (21 CFR 51.1), canned dry peas (21 CFR 51.4) canned green beans (21 CFR 51.10), canned wax beans (21 CFR 51.15), canned corn (21

[3] Attachments A–E and Appendices 1–3 filed as part of the original document.

CFR 51.20), canned field corn (21 CFR 51.30), and canned vegetables other than those specifically regulated as provided for in 21 CFR 51.990, to permit the use of margarine as an optional seasoning ingredient in an amount not less 3 percent by weight of the finished food:

A notice of proposed rulemaking in the above-identified matter was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of June 27, 1973 (38 FR 16909) based on a petition filed by the National Association of Margarine Manufacturers, 1725 K St. NW., Washington, DC 20016.

In addition to the petitioner's provisions, the Commissioner proposed to update the labeling provisions for the optional ingredients used in each of the standards affected in accordance with §§ 1.12 and 3.88 (21 CFR 1.12 and 3.88).

An order ruling on a proposal to amend the standards for canned corn (21 CFR 51.20, 51.21, and 51.22) based on the Codex standard was published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of February 15, 1974 (39 FR 5760). It adopted the provision to provide for margarine as an optional seasoning ingredient in canned corn and updated the labeling provisions for optional ingredients as set out in the proposal published in the FEDERAL REGISTER of June 27, 1973 (38 FR 16909). Therefore, because no further changes in the standards of identity for canned corn (21 CFR 51.20) and canned field corn (21 CFR 51.30) are needed, a ruling in respect to those standards is not included in this order.

Three of the four comments received were in favor of the proposal. The fourth comment expressed concern that the proposed use of margarine in canned vegetables would increase the number of foods presenting a health hazard for those individuals allergic to the coal tar derivatives found in some of the artificial coloring and flavoring ingredients permitted in margarine. The comment further stated that even if the labeling requirements were amended to declare in boldface print that margarine is present the proposed regulations would unduly burden concerned individuals in shopping for such canned vegetable products.

The Commissioner states that the color additives and flavor additives which may be used in margarine are regulated or certified for use under regulations established pursuant to the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act, and have been considered to be safe. He concludes that the name of the food and the ingredient statement will indicate the presence of margarine, will give adequate warning to individuals that such substances may be present and will permit them readily to distinguish between those canned vegetables with added margarine and those without added margarine. In any event the Commissioner is aware that colors permitted for use in margarine are no different from those permitted for use in butter. Section 403(k) of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act does not require label declaration of artificial colors added to butter. Therefore, the Commissioner cannot justify denying the availability of canned vegetable products with margarine to the large majority of the population who are not allergic to certain color or flavor additives that the margarine may contain.

Therefore, pursuant to provisions of the Federal Food, Drug, and Cosmetic Act (secs. 401, 701, 52 Stat. 1046, 1055 as amended by 70 Stat. 919 and 72 Stat. 948; (21 U.S.C. 341, 371)) and under authority delegated to the Commissioner (21 CFR 2.120); It is ordered, That Part 51 be amended as follows:

Further, whenever the name "green beans" appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under the customary conditions of purchase, the words and statements prescribed by paragraph (d)(1) through (5) shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter except that there may intervene (i) the designation of the length of cut, (ii) the varietal name, which may include the word "stringless", and (iii) the description of the green beans, as "stringless", which may also be used between the words "green" and "beans", where the beans are in fact stringless.

(f) Each of the optional ingredients used shall be declared on the label as required by the applicable sections of Part 1 of this chapter.

4. In § 51.990 by revising paragraph (c)(3)(xiii), by deleting paragraph (f) (4), (5), (6), (7), (8), (9), (10), (11), (12), and (13), and by revising paragraph (g) and adding paragraph (h) as follows:

When butter or margarine is added, no spice or flavoring simulating the color or flavor imparted by butter or margarine is used.

* * * * *

(g) The name of the food shall include a declaration of any flavoring that characterizes the product as specified in § 1.12 of this chapter, and a declaration of any spice or seasoning that characterizes the product; for example, "with added spice", "seasoned with red peppers", "seasoned with butter". Wherever the name of the vegetable appears on the label so conspicuously as to be easily seen under customary conditions of purchase, the words and statements specified in paragraphs (e) and (f)(1) through (3) of this section shall immediately and conspicuously precede or follow such name, without intervening written, printed, or graphic matter, except that the varietal name of the vegetable may so intervene.

(h) Each of the optional ingredients used shall be declared on the label as required by the applicable sections of Part 1 of this chapter.

Any person who will be adversely affected by the foregoing order may at any time on or before May 16, 1974, file with the Hearing Clerk, Food and Drug Administration, Rm. 6-86, 5600 Fishers Lane, Rockville, MD 20852, written objections thereto.
