Part II

Department of the Interior

Fish and Wildlife Service

50 CFR Part 91

Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp (Duck Stamp) Contest; Final Rule

DEPARTMENT OF THE INTERIOR

Fish and Wildlife Service

50 CFR Part 91

Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp (Duck Stamp) Contest

AGENCY: Fish and Wildlife Service, Interior.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Service is revising the regulations governing the conduct of the annual Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp (Duck Stamp) Contest. The amendments include the following changes: (1) Deadline date moved up from October 1 to September 15; (2) Provides for a procedure for judging a tie vote for first, second, and third place; (3) Identifies forty two species from which five are eligible in any given year. The dates and location of this year's contest are also announced, and the public is invited to attend.

DATES: 1. This rule is effective July 1, 1988, the beginning of the 1988-1989 contest.

2. This year's contest will be held on November 7 and 8, 1988, beginning at 11 a.m. on Monday and 9 a.m. on Tuesday.

3. Persons wishing to enter this year's contest may submit entries anytime after July 1, but all must be postmarked no later than midnight September 15.

ADDRESSES: Requests for complete copies of the regulations, reproduction rights and display agreements should be addressed to: Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp Contest, Department of the Interior, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Room 7349, Washington, DC 20240.

Location of Contest: Department of the Interior Building Auditorium (C Street Entrance), 1800 C Street NW., Washington, DC.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Ms. Norma Opgrand, Coordinator, Federal Duck Stamp Program, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Room 7349, Washington, DC 20240, Telephone: (202) 343-5508.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: Analysis of these revisions to 50 CFR Part 91 has resulted in the Department's determining that they are not major actions under the provisions of Executive Order 12291. The revisions also will not significantly affect a substantial number of small entities under the provisions of the Regulatory Flexibility Act, since entrants are individuals and not small entities as defined in 5 U.S.C. 601 et seq. The revisions do not contain information collection requirements that require approval by the Office of Management and Budget under 44 U.S.C. 3501 et seq. No compliance with the National Environmental Policy Act is required because this rule constitutes minor changes or revisions to an approved action (the Duck Stamp Contest), that have no potential for causing substantial environmental impact.

Analysis of Public Comment

Approximately 900 copies of the proposed regulations (53 FR 6938) were mailed to artists, art dealers and publishers, the press and the general public.

Thirty-six comments were received addressing the three proposed changes in the regulations of the Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp Contest. The three proposed changes were: (1) to change the deadline date from October 1 to September 15; (2) to establish procedures for judging a tie vote for second and third place; and (3) to limit the number of eligible species to five.

Nineteen people favored changing the contest deadline to September 15, two people were opposed to the change, and 16 people made no comment regarding the contest deadline. Those that favored the change stated that the deadline date was unimportant, that work seems to fit the time allotted for it, but that it would be helpful to have the regulations sent to the artists as early as possible. Of the two people opposing the deadline change, one gave no reason and the other simply stated that he preferred the October 1 deadline.

Nineteen people supported establishing a procedure for judging tie votes for second and third place, two people opposed the change, and 15 people made no comment regarding the tie vote procedure. Those that favored the change stated it was a housekeeping change and that the reasons cited in the press release seemed reasonable and fair. One individual who opposed the establishment of this saw no purpose in a tie breaker procedure, and another person didn't provide a reason for opposing.

Twenty people favored limiting the eligible species to five, seven opposed the change and nine made no comment. Although many people did not give their reasons for supporting the change to five eligible species, one comment was of particular interest. "Eligible species changes gave me pause at first. I have my favorites and push them. Then I realized that my attitude did not push me. You are giving me a choice—there are five to choose from—and you are asking me to stretch myself—better for both of us, but particularly for the artist; very good idea. Thanks for asking." The main concern of the seven individuals opposed to limiting the species was that artists living in certain areas of the country would have difficulty obtaining live references for their designs. In establishing the eligible species each year, the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service will make every effort to include one species from each of the flyways, with intent to minimize difficulty in locating live reference material.

Other comments that were received that did not deal with the changes but addressed other aspects of the contest and the regulations included:

(1) Regulations should be sent to the artists much earlier than in previous years—could be included when artwork is returned from current contest.

(2) Change the contest eligibility to include other wildlife species besides ducks, geese, and swans.

(3) Prohibit artists who have won the competition from entering again.

(4) Increase the entry fee to $100.00.

(5) Keep the entry fee at $50.00 for several years.

(6) Thank you from several for the opportunity to comment.

(7) Allow a vertical design.

The comments listed above will be given consideration in future changes of the Duck Stamp contest regulations.

The primary authors of this document are David Fisher, James E. Pinkerton, and Norma E. Opgrand, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Subpart B—Procedures for Entering the Contest§ 91.11 Contest deadlines.

(a) The contest will officially open on July 1 of each year.

(b) Entries must be postmarked no later than midnight of September 15.

§ 91.12 Contest eligibility.

United States citizens, nationals, or resident aliens are eligible to participate in the contest. Any person who has won the contest during the preceding three years shall be ineligible to submit an entry in the current year's contest. Contest judges and their relatives are ineligible to submit an entry. All entrants must submit a non-refundable fee of $50.00 by a cashier's check, certified check, or money order made payable to: Fish and Wildlife Service. (Personal checks will not be accepted). All entrants must submit signed reproduction rights and display agreements.

§ 91.13 Technical requirements for design and submission of entry.

The design must be a horizontal drawing or painting seven (7) inches high and ten (10) inches wide. The entry may be drawn in any medium desired by the contestant and may be in either multicolor or black and white. No scrollwork, lettering, bird band numbers, signatures or initials may appear on the design. Each entry must be matted (over or under) with a nine (9) inch by twelve (12) inch white mat, one (1) inch wide, and cannot exceed one quarter (¼) inch in total thickness. Entries must not be framed, under glass, or have a protective covering that is attached to the entry.

§ 91.14 Restrictions on subject matter of entry.

A live portrayal of any bird(s) of the five identified eligible species must be the dominant feature of the design. The design may depict more than one of the eligible species. The design must be the contestant's original creation and may not be copied or duplicated from previously published art, including photographs. An entry submitted in a prior contest that was not selected for the Federal or a state stamp design may be submitted in the current contest if it meets the above criteria.

§ 91.15 Suitability of entry for engraving.

All entries should be drawn with fullest attention to clarity of detail and the relationship of tonal values. These prerequisites are important to interpret pictorial elements to hand engraving for printing, as they determine the engraved line techniques and direction. The engraver relies on the accuracy of the artist's work for successful interpretation. An entry that is a line pencil drawing, scratchboard, or an etching should effectively interpret the full range of tone, rather than duplicate line engraving techniques of past Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamps. The engraver is primarily responsible for line interpretation and discipline, creating the miniature image of the stamp.

§ 91.16 Submission procedures for entry.

(a) Each contestant may submit only one entry. Each entry must be accompanied by a non-refundable entrance fee and a completed and signed Reproduction Rights Agreement and a completed and signed Display Agreement. The bottom portion of the Reproduction Rights Agreement must be attached to the back of the entry.

(b) Each entry should be appropriately wrapped to protect the art work and sent by registered mail or hand delivered to: Migratory Bird Hunting and Conservation Stamp Contest, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, Room 7049, Department of the Interior, Washington, DC 20240.

§ 91.17 Property insurance for entries.

Each contestant is responsible for obtaining adequate insurance coverage for his/her entry. The Department of the Interior will not insure the entries it receives. The Department of the Interior is not responsible for loss or damage unless it is caused by its negligence or willful misconduct; in any event, the liability of the Department of the Interior will not exceed the amount of the fifty dollar ($50.00) entry fee.

§ 91.18 Failure to comply with contest regulations.

Any entry that does not comply with the requirements of Subpart B will be disqualified from the contest.

Subpart C—Procedures for Administering the Contest

§ 91.21 Selection and qualification of contest judges.

Judges will be selected annually by the Secretary of the Interior. Current employees of the Fish and Wildlife Service and their relatives are ineligible to serve as judges for the contest. The judges will be reimbursed for reasonable travel expenses. The judges will be announced on the first day of the contest.

§ 91.22 Display of entries for contest.

All eligible entries will be displayed in the Department of the Interior auditorium in numerical order. The only visible identification on each entry will be the number assigned to it in chronological order when it is received and processed by the Service.

§ 91.23 Scoring criteria for contest.

Entries will be judged on the basis of anatomical accuracy, artistic composition and suitability for engraving in the production of a stamp.

§ 91.24 Contest procedures.

(a) The day before the judging begins, the judges will be briefed on all aspects of the judging procedures and other details of the competition, and will preview all eligible artwork entered.

(b) Prior to the first round of judging, the judges will spend an additional two hours in the auditorium reviewing the entries the first day before the official contest is open to the public.

(c) All qualified entries will be shown one at a time to the judges by the Contest Coordinator or a contest staff member. The judges will vote "in" or "out" on each entry; those entries receiving a majority of votes "in" will be eligible for the second round of judging. The remaining entries will be placed on display as a group for public viewing.

(d) Prior to the second round of judging, each judge may select not more than five entries from those eliminated in the first round. Those additional entries selected by the judges will be eligible to be judged in the second round.

(e) Prior to the second round of judging, the entries selected by the judges under the procedures of paragraphs (c) and (d) of this section will be displayed in numerical order in the front of the auditorium.

(f) In the second round of judging, each entry selected in the first round, plus the additional entries selected by judges, will be shown one at a time to the judges by the Contest Coordinator or a contest staff member. The judges will vote by indicating a numerical score from one to nine for each entry. One highest and one lowest score for each entry will be eliminated and the remaining scores will be totaled to provide the entry score. The entries receiving the five highest scores will be advanced to the third and final round.

(g) In the third round of judging, the judges will vote on the remaining entries using the same method as in round two. The Contest Coordinator will tabulate the final votes and present them to the Director, U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service, who will announce the winning entry as well as the entries that placed second and third.

(h) In case of a tie vote for first, second, or third place in the final round, the judges will vote again on the entries that are tied. The judges will vote using the same method as in rounds two and three.

(i) The selection of the winning entry by the judges will be final. Each contestant will be notified of the winning artist and the design. The winning artist will receive a pane of Duck Stamps signed by the Secretary of the Interior at the Duck Stamp Contest the following year. The artists placing first, second, and third will receive a framed commendation from the Director of the U.S. Fish and Wildlife Service.

Subpart D—Post-Contest Procedures

§ 91.31 Return of entries after contest.

All entries will be returned by certified mail to the participating artists within 120 days after the contest. If artwork is returned to the Service because it is undelivered or unclaimed (this may happen if an artist changes address), the Service will not be obligated to trace the location of the artist to return the artwork. Any artist who changes his or her address is responsible for notifying the Service of the change. All unclaimed entries will be destroyed one year from the date of the contest.

Date: April 14, 1988.
