DEPARTMENT OF JUSTICE

28 CFR Part 0

[Order No. 1491-91]

Organization of the Department of Justice; United States National Central Bureau, International Criminal Police Organization

AGENCY: Department of Justice.

ACTION: Final rule.

SUMMARY: The Department of Justice is amending § 0.34 of title 28 of the Code of Federal Regulations, which concerns the general functions of the Chief of the United States National Central Bureau, International Criminal Police Organization (INTERPOL-USNCB). The amendment revises paragraph (c) to reflect the Chief of INTERPOL-USNCB's participation in the Executive Committee of INTERPOL-USNCB.

EFFECTIVE DATE: April 30, 1991.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: Maurice Ross, Special Assistant to the Deputy Attorney General, U.S. Department of Justice, Washington, DC 20530, (202) 514-1904.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION: In 1988, INTERPOL-USNCB's Management Policy Group was structured in a manner perceived at the time to be the most efficient and effective means of reviewing and developing INTERPOL programs and policies. The Chief of INTERPOL-USNCB served as a member of the Management Policy Group.

In actual practice over the years, responsibility for INTERPOL programs came to be centered in what is known as the Executive Committee in INTERPOL-USNCB. Thus, the structure and composition of the current Management Policy Group no longer adequately reflects the management needs of INTERPOL-USNCB. The formal creation of an Executive Committee of INTERPOL-USNCB and the restructuring of the Management Policy Group offer a more efficient and effective structure for reviewing, developing and implementing INTERPOL programs and policies. This amendment reflects these changes by eliminating the description of the Management Policy Group and by adding membership on the Executive Committee of INTERPOL-USNCB to the list of functions assigned to the Chief of INTERPOL-USNCB.

As required by the Regulatory Flexibility Act, it is hereby certified that this rule will not have a significant impact on small business entities. It is not a major rule within the meaning of Executive Order 12291.

Colorado; Final Authorization of State Hazardous Waste Management Program

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Immediate final rule.

SUMMARY: Colorado has applied for final authorization of revisions to its hazardous waste program under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA). EPA has reviewed the Colorado application and has made a decision, subject to public review and comment, that the Colorado hazardous waste program revision satisfies all of the requirements necessary to qualify for final authorization. Thus, EPA intends to approve the Colorado hazardous waste program revisions. The Colorado application for program revision is available for public review and comment.

DATES: Final authorization for Colorado shall be effective July 9, 1991 unless EPA publishes a prior Federal Register action withdrawing this immediate final rule. All comments on the Colorado program revision application must be received by the close of business June 10, 1991.

ADDRESSES: Copies of the Colorado program revision application are available from 8:30 a.m. to 4 p.m. Monday through Friday at the following addresses for inspection and copying: Hazardous Materials and Waste Management Division, Colorado Department of Health, 4210 East 11th Avenue, Denver, Colorado 80220, Phone: 303/331-4830; U.S. EPA Headquarters Library, PM211A, 401 M Street SW., Washington, DC 20460, Phone: 202/382-5926; EPA Region VIII, Library, 999 18th Street, Denver, CO 80202-2405, Phone: 303/293-1444. FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT: David Schaller, Section Chief, RCRA Management Branch, Program Support Section, 999 18th Street, Denver, CO 80202-2405, Phone: 303/293-7540.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

The States with final authorization under section 3006(b) of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act ("RCRA" or "the Act"), 42 U.S.C. 6929(b), have a continuing obligation to maintain a hazardous waste program that is equivalent to, consistent with, and no less stringent than the Federal hazardous waste program. In addition, as an interim measure, the Hazardous and Solid Waste Amendments of 1984 (Public Law 98-616, November 8, 1984, hereinafter "HSWA") allows States to revise their programs to become substantially equivalent instead of equivalent to RCRA requirements promulgated under HSWA authority. States exercising the latter option receive "interim authorization" for the HSWA requirements under section 3006(g) of RCRA, 42 U.S.C. 6926(g), and later apply for final authorization for the HSWA requirements.

Revisions to State hazardous waste programs are necessary when Federal or State statutory or regulatory authority is modified or when certain others changes occur. Most commonly, State program revisions are necessitated by changes to EPA's regulations in 40 CFR parts 260-266 and 124 and 270.

B. Colorado

Colorado initially received final authorization on November 2, 1984. Colorado received additional authorizations for revisions to its program on November 7, 1986 and July 14, 1989. On February 28, 1989 and on February 28, 1990, Colorado submitted applications for additional program modifications. Today, Colorado is seeking approval of its program revision in accordance with 40 CFR 271.21(b)(3).

EPA has reviewed the Colorado applications, and has made an immediate final decision that the Colorado hazardous waste program revision satisfies all requirements necessary to qualify for final authorization. Consequently, EPA intends to grant final authorization for the additional modifications to the Colorado hazardous waste program. The public may submit written comments on EPA's immediate final decision up until June 10, 1991. Copies of the Colorado application for program revision are available for inspection and copying at the locations indicated in the "Addresses" section of this notice.

Approval of the Colorado hazardous waste program revision shall become effective in 60 days unless an adverse comment pertaining to the State's revision discussed in this notice is received by the end of the comment period. If an adverse comment is received EPA will publish either (1) a withdrawal of the immediate final decision or (2) a notice containing a response to comments which either affirms that the immediate final decision takes effect or reverses the decision.

The State of Colorado submitted a draft application for further revision of its authorized hazardous waste program on February 28, 1989. An amendment to this application which added changes to the program description, was received on May 25, 1989. EPA reviewed this application and on September 12, 1990 sent its comments to the State. Among the concerns of the EPA were a lack of adequate regulatory authority for the analysis required by its hazardous waste tank program and an ability by Colorado to require general waste analysis. The State's response to EPA's comments was received on January 21, 1991. This response adequately addressed the concerns of EPA on this application.

A second draft application which requested authorization of additional modification to the State hazardous waste program was received on February 28, 1990.

Both of the Colorado applications to modify its hazardous waste program authorization have been found to be consistent and equivalent to the federal hazardous waste program. Neither of these applications provide for the Colorado program to be broader in scope than is the EPA program.

Permits issued under the EPA program for treatment, storage, or disposal are deemed by the Colorado Department of Health to have a permit under Colorado Revised Statute 25-15-303(3). All EPA permits which have been issued for that part of the program which is being authorized today become State permits at the time of authorization. EPA will transfer permit applications to the State for completion under the State's regulations.

Colorado has adopted hazardous waste regulations similar to the EPA regulations under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. Because Colorado implements Colorado regulations when they become effective, the program in the application is similar to the federal program under the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act. The program is being and has been implemented in the past by Colorado.

Colorado has not requested hazardous waste program authority on Indian lands. The Environmental Protection Agency retains all hazardous waste authority under RCRA which applies to Indian lands in Colorado.

C. Decision

I conclude that the Colorado application for program revision meets all of the statutory and established regulatory requirements by RCRA. Accordingly, Colorado is granted final authorization to operate its hazardous waste program as revised in the February 28, 1989 and February 28, 1990, applications in lieu of the federal hazardous waste program. Colorado now has responsibility for permitting treatment, storage, and disposal facilities within its borders and for carrying out other aspects of the RCRA program, subject to the limitation of its February 28, 1989 and February 28, 1990 revised program applications and previously approved authorities. Colorado also has primary enforcement responsibilities, although EPA retains the right to conduct inspections under section 3007 of RCRA and to take enforcement actions under sections 3008, 3013, and 7003 of RCRA.

Compliance With Executive Order 12291

The Office of Management and Budget has exempted this rule from the requirements of section 3 of Executive Order 12291.

Certification Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act

Pursuant to the provisions of 4 U.S.C. 605(b), I hereby certify that this authorization will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. This authorization effectively suspends the applicability of certain Federal regulations in favor of Colorado's program, thereby eliminating duplicative requirements for handlers of hazardous waste in the State. It does not impose any new burdens on small entities. This rule, therefore, does not require a regulatory flexibility analysis.

Georgia; Final Approval of State Underground Storage Tank Program

AGENCY: Environmental Protection Agency.

ACTION: Notice of Final Determination on State of Georgia Application for Final Approval.

SUMMARY: The State of Georgia has applied for final approval of its underground storage tank program under subtitle I of the Resources Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA). The Environmental Protection Agency (EPA) has reviewed the Georgia application and determined, subject to public review and comment, that the Georgia Underground Storage Tank Program satisfies all of the requirements necessary to qualify for final approval. Thus, EPA is granting approval to the State to operate its program unless adverse public comment shows the need for further review. The Georgia application for final approval is available for public review and comment.

DATES: Final authorization for the Georgia underground storage tank program shall be effective at 1 p.m. on July 9, 1991, unless EPA publishes a prior Federal Register action withdrawing this final rule. All comments on the Georgia final approval application must be received by the close of business on June 10, 1991.

FOR FURTHER INFORMATION CONTACT:

Jon E. Isbell, Georgia State Program Officer, Underground Storage Tank Section, U.S. EPA, Region IV, Atlanta, Georgia 30365, phone: 404/347-3866.

SUPPLEMENTARY INFORMATION:

A. Background

Section 9004 of the Resource Conservation and Recovery Act (RCRA) enables EPA to approve State underground storage tank programs to operate in the State in lieu of the Federal underground storage tank (UST) program. To qualify for final authorization, a State's program must: (1) Be "no less stringent" than the Federal program; and (2) provide for adequate enforcement (sections 9004(a) of RCRA, 42 U.S.C. 6991c(b)).

On April 3, 1990, EPA acknowledged receiving from the State of Georgia a completed official application to obtain final approval to administer its underground storage tank program. Prior to its submission, the State of Georgia provided an opportunity for public notice and comment in the development of its underground storage tank program as required under section 281.509(b). The State adopted by reference the corresponding Federal UST regulations. The State's rules first became effective on July 1, 1988, and were amended February 18, 1990. On March 14, 1991, EPA received an amended application from the State which satisfied EPA's final review comments dated October 24, 1990.

B. Decision

After reviewing the amended Georgia application, I conclude that the State's program meets all of the requirements necessary to qualify for final approval. Accordingly, the State of Georgia is granted final approval to operate its underground storage tank program. The State of Georgia now has the responsibility for managing underground storage tank facilities within its borders and carrying out all aspects of the UST program. The State of Georgia also has primary enforcement responsibility, although EPA retains the right to conduct inspections under section 9005 of RCRA U.S.C. 6991d and to take enforcement actions under section 9006 of RCRA U.S.C. 6991e.

Compliance With Executive Order 12291

The Office of Management and Budget has exempted this rule from the requirements of section 3 of Executive Order 12291.

Certification Under the Regulatory Flexibility Act

Pursuant to the provisions of 5 U.S.C. 605(b), I hereby certify that this approval will not have a significant economic impact on a substantial number of small entities. The approval effectively suspends the applicability of certain Federal regulations in favor of the State of Georgia's program, thereby eliminating duplicative requirements for owners and operators of underground storage tanks within the State. It does not impose any new burdens on small entities. This rule, therefore, does not require a regulatory flexibility analysis.
